

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Nihilism or Russian Satire author-based, suggested authors: Social and Russian Satire of Tolstoy

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: Early Russian Empire / Persia and the Mongols

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Pushkin, Dostoyevskiy

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

Interested more in courses in Russian

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based suggested themes: Russian-Jewish culture, WWII culture author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: WWII, Soviet Era

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: Russian minority groups, dissident/civil society movements

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Sci-fi? Russian Nationalist?

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: Leviathan?

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: Siberia

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama

ballet

opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: Anthropology

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 (8) 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 (8) 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

(0) 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: history

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: satirical, "Yarovskoye" drama ballet opera circo the

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: Far east of Russia

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS IN CURRENT RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: Russian culture/about USSR

drama

ballet

opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Russian Revolution, Early USSR, Perestroika

author-based, suggested authors: Tolstoy, Solzhenitsyn, Chekhov, Pushkin

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

would be interesting stories could be read in Russian

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: президи Сергей Лазарев и Дима Билан

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: None in particular author-based, suggested authors: the yobats

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

!!! - Very important

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: 1917, 1825, Peter the Great, Secretory Russian history

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: No

is pretty much always fascinating

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

The arts and political history in general

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Dostoyevsky

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: Soviet comedies

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Mikhail Bulgakov

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: Tarkovsky (Stalker!!!)

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: Prokofiev, Mussorgsky

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based:

19th

20th

21st centuries

poetry, period-based

19th

20th

21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes:

Russia/America Relations

author-based, suggested authors:

Leo Tolstoy

Other:

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics:

drama

ballet

opera

Other:

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other:

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other:

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas:

Nuclear weapons impact on affected areas

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic

civic activism and dissent

military

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: short stories by these authors author-based, suggested authors: dostoevsky, tolstoy,

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: drama, thriller, historical

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

Music that is political

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century

21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: include major historical events → how they affected Russia → Russia & Ukraine relations, etc

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT → landscape feeds

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

M

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____ ue

author-based, suggested authors: Anna Karenina Boris Akunin

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Gogol

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Tolstoy, Dostoevsky,

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

* overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

all please !!

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Chekhov, Gogol, Pushkin

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

All! (please)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Pushkin

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Googol

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: WWII, Soviet experience

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military * * *

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Revolution author-based, suggested authors: ~~Pushkin~~ Pushkin Tolstoy

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Tolstoy

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: ~~19th~~ 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes:

Totalitarianism

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

Political regime, Communism etc.

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Pushkin, Chekhov

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: World War ~~II~~ #

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: Siberia

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based:

19th

20th

21st centuries

poetry, period-based

19th

20th

21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes

Russian fairytales

(сказки) → Басни

author-based, suggested authors

PUSHKIN, Fyodor DOSTOEVSKY

Other: _____

children's poems w/ life lesson

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama

ballet

opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

☆☆ - PLEASE!!!

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

(20th cent.)

Thanks!

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history ALL

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: NUCLEAR & ENVIRONMENTAL

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Dostoevsky

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: Russian landscape

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: Beke famous filmmakers (Eisenstein, Tarkovski, etc)

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: Classical music and history

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: be over unrepresentative!!

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes:

author-based, suggested authors: Gogol, Tolstoy, Dostoevsky, Bulgakov

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: political in relation to written works

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: Landscapes

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Revolutionary Literature author-based, suggested authors: Soviet Authors - Bulgakov, Pasternak

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: Industrialization in Soviet Union

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: 18th / 19th Century Russian Lit author-based, suggested authors: Tolstoy, Gogol, Pushkin, Dostoyevsky, Turgenev

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Гоголь, Достоевский

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: the freeze unfreezing of permafrost

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: culture, changes in everyday life

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: Any of this!

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:
(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films ~~documentaries~~

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music ~~popular music~~ history of music

~~paintings~~ sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

~~overview/intro to Russia's history~~

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: ~~the~~ Soviet impact on environment

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: environmental diversity and degradation

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: BPAT, BPAT II, East/West, Cecypu drama ballet opera Moscow does not believe in tears,

Other: 80s/90s movies war movies

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: 80s, 90s Russian music

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Russian movie courses would be very interesting & in Russian w/english subtitles

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: World War II, Cold War, Fall of USSR etc.

author-based, suggested authors: Alexevich

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: war films, science fiction

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: None! I really love!

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: ~~19th century~~ 20th century 21st century

~~international~~ ~~domestic~~ ~~military~~

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: History, namely of the cold war ~~that~~ would be extremely interesting.

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

A course on general Russian culture!!

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Popular young adult novels (contemporary)

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: Both fiction and non-fiction about everyday life

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: Revolutionary period & general Soviet history

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: Irony of faith

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: Siberia

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

2

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Royal history, serfdom, Industrialization

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: Cold war films from Russian side

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic

civic activism and dissent

military

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: short films

drama

ballet

opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: revolution/change

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Sci-fi

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: sci-fi

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

N/A

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

N/A

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: economy, development, technology

N/A

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Russian geopolitics

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes:

author-based, suggested authors: Dostoevsky, Turgenyev, Tolstoy, Gogol

Other: Chekhov, Gorky

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics:

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Chekhov, Solzhenitsen, Dostoevsky

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: The operas of Korsakov and Tchaikovsky

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: with specific regard to the Big Five: Cui, Cesar, Mussorgsky, Balakirev, and Borodin

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: Soviet literature / Russian existentialism

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: Russian Realism

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: Soviet history 1917-1924

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Russia as the other author-based, suggested authors: Pushkin: poetry, prose, and influences in Rus culture

Other: Chekov

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: Soviet-era cinema

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: The Russian geography in lit. (Siberia vs. S. as a character)

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: Tolstoy, Dostoevsky, Pushkin

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Canon

author-based, suggested authors: Bulgakov

Other: An overview course (1 sem 19th cent & earlier, 2nd sem 20th cent & later) with readings in Russian

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama

ballet

opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: Course on the influence of music & literature on each other, 1800-1940?

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

A course about the Russian periphery (Siberia, South Uralia...)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: social era literature: Philosophy dance author-based, suggested authors: Anna, Mary...

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:
(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: text in Russian music - intersection of literature and music

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: Maybe unique aspects of human/natural environment interaction? Esp. cultural/artistic/literary!

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Russian Symbolism, Silver Age

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: Russian music theory in late 19th / early 20th c.

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films-by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama

ballet

opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: Discussions about Communist era Russia

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music popular music history of music

paintings sculpture architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century 20th century 21st century

international domestic military

civic activism and dissent human rights gender online culture religion

Other: History that is different and more in depth from what we have learned in American schools

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: World War II films

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: Chemistry / consequences of environment

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.

SURVEY TO ASSESS THE INTERESTS OF STUDENTS ENROLLED IN RUSSIAN LANGUAGE & LITERATURE COURSES

Fall 2016

The Department of Comparative Literature is collecting ideas for adding a few courses in English for students who have an interest in Russia. Even if you do not actually have the time to take another Russia-related course, your responses will help future generations of Cornellians, and possibly even yours.

It would be great to have an opportunity to take:

TRADITIONAL COURSES IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE (i.e. reading and discussing great books by Russian authors, mostly in English translations and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN RUSSIAN CINEMA (mostly in English and, where practical, in the original)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

COURSES IN VARIOUS ASPECTS OF RUSSIAN POPULAR CULTURE (in English and/or Russian)

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 (0=not interested, 10=definitely interested)

More broadly, it would be great to have courses that include the following areas of Russian studies:

(circle all general and specific categories that reflect your interests)

LITERATURE

prose, period-based: 19th 20th 21st centuries

poetry, period-based 19th 20th 21st centuries

theme-based, suggested themes: _____

author-based, suggested authors: _____

Other: _____

FILM & THEATER

feature films

documentaries

films by topic, suggested topics: _____

drama ballet opera

Other: _____

MUSIC & VISUAL ARTS

classical music

popular music

history of music

paintings

sculpture

architecture

Other: _____

HISTORY & POLITICS

overview of/intro to Russia's history

period-based: 19th century

20th century

21st century

international

domestic

military

civic activism and dissent

human rights

gender

online culture

religion

Other: _____

NATURE & ENVIRONMENT

Specific areas: _____

ANY OTHER AREAS OF CULTURE STUDY, GENERAL OR SPECIFIC (please add)

Thank you! If you want to be included in further discussions this spring, please print your email address.